

PROCLAMATION

No. 17525

By The

Governor of the State of Texas

Executive Department
Austin, Texas
June 8, 1937.

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

I am today disapproving and vetoing House Bill No. 547 for the following reasons:

This bill makes an appropriation of $250,000 for the purpose of establishing a cotton research laboratory in Texas in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture. The condition of the Treasury will not permit this increase in the deficit at this time. General appropriations and the general costs of government have been substantially increased by the Forty-fifth Legislature, and all revenue measures passed by the House failed to get through the State Senate. Irrespective of the merits of this bill, I do not believe we should approve this appropriation since no revenues have been provided to take care of it.

This bill not having reached my desk more than ten days before the end of the Regular Session of the Forty-fifth Legislature, pursuant to the Constitution I am filing this proclamation attached to the bill with the Secretary of State.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal to be affirmed hereto this 8th day of June, A. D. 1937.
